duced to three last Wednesday night.

J. M. HANCOCK, merchant of Washington, arrived in Coalville Wednesday.

Skating has been all the go the past week. The boys and girls have been out every evening enjoying the ice.

J. H. Barber was under the weather the greater part of the week but we are pleased to state that he is back to work again.

Another line of FALL STREET SUITS, SKIRTS and COATS, just in—Margaret R. Salmon.

The citizens of the section have just passed through one of the largest cold snaps—having ten days experienced here in a long time.
Yesterday was like a spring morning and was indeed welcomed by all.

According to reports there will be no scarcity of ice in the section next summer. Mr. Lee, the steamery man, informed us that he had harvested ice twelve inches in thickness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hancock left for Park City yesterday. Mrs.
Hancock has been visiting in Grass Creek the past six weeks. Mr.
Hancock will return in a few days.

R EPORT has it that certain mining magnates of Park City are negotiating with certain parties in this locality with a view of building smelters here. Whether the report is true or not, there is a chance, we believe, to have smelters here, where they properly belong. Here is a chance for someone to get by. Why remain a cow-town forever?

A few days ago for a month's visit in California.

The boat for the new bridge across Webber river at Honefer, arrived this week, and is being put in place there. The cold weather has made it difficult for the people to get across the river and they naturally rejoice over the arrival of the bridge.

Last Sunday a dinner was given at the home of O. B. Arnold in honor of his father, Thomas Arnold, the occasion being the first anniversary of his birth. Those present were:
State Mine Inspector and Mrs. Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Summers, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown and Mrs. Wm.
Sargent. One feature of the gathering was that the families of Arnold, Wilde and Summers represented families of twelve children-ship-six in all.

A party was tendered our old, respected citizen, Thomas Arnold, last Saturday evening at the home of his son, O. B. Arnold—the occasion being the first anniversary of his birthday. An excellent time was had by all present. The evening was spent in singing, recitations and toasts. Refreshments were served.
Those present were: Messrs. and Madame Daniel Summers, John Wilson, Elijah Swainston, Jr., David Swainston, Chas. Clark, Daniel Summers, Jr.,

The late Fred Hirt, administrator of the estate of Willard Hirt, and the Stepien Valley Smelter Mining company, the Navajo Railroad Copper company and the Cumberland Fly Mining company filed in the federal court Saturday. The action is started by administrator on behalf of Hirt and the other heirs as legal Ward Hirt to recover $20,000 in death of the intestate earlier 1901, Nov., on December 31, 1907.

The complaint sets up that Hirt was killed the overturning of a steam engine owned by the defendant company and at the time being operated by a railroad operated by them. The overturning of the shovel is alleged to have been due to the negligence of the defendant in not renewing some of the shovel bolts, by failing to inspect and to replace the bolts, of the shovel which it was being mined.

The bulk of the damages are four thousand and the plaintiff.

It depends upon the pill you take.
Duke's Little Liver Pills are the best little known for constipation and all headaches.
